Mayor Courtright's Statement on the Police Tragedy in Dallas

“As Mayor of the City of Scranton, I send our thoughts and prayers to the families of the fallen officers in Dallas, the injured surviving officers, the Dallas Police Department, and the people of that great city. Each of these heroes was lost or injured, while they performed their sworn duty to protect and serve the public, making up the thin blue line that is so critically important for the welfare of all of our communities. Having lost one of our own police officers last year in the line of duty, I can understand the incredible pain that such an inconsolable loss means for every resident, especially the men and women who serve in uniform everyday. I also know how strong our communities are and that we come together in the darkest of times to walk down the long road of healing.”

“Dallas, Scranton stands with you and is here for you.”
