Legal Assistance

North Penn Legal Services (NPLS) is a nonprofit organization that provides free civil legal aid to low-income residents in Northeastern Pennsylvania. They offer assistance in various areas, including eviction, family law, housing, and consumer protection issues. NPLS aims to empower vulnerable populations through professional legal representation, advocacy, and education. They provide services such as individual representation, information, referral, and community legal education. For more information or to apply, you can visit the website at www.nplspa.org or call at 1-877-953-4250.

As a Renter in the City of Scranton, YOU HAVE RIGHTS

If you feel your rights are being violated, please contact your landlord, the City of Scranton's Department of Code Enforcement at 570/348-4193 or North Penn Legal Services listed above.
